MEDIA RELEASE:

Internet Café pulls locals into library

Pullenshoop Library is pulling in the local community by the dozen since it started an Internet Café and a computer lab in its premises.

Library Assistant Amanda Mahudu who works alone at the library was lucky to see a handful a people a day coming to take out library books, but now she is handling 50 to 60 people a day who are eager to use the computers to write CVs, apply for jobs or even for research for school projects.

"I am so happy, the library used to be quite dead as not many people are interested in reading books, but since the installation of the computers and Internet Café people are streaming in to use the technology.'
